PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Undergraduate Certificate in Fashion Illustration is a 30 ECTS program designed to provide a comprehensive foundation in the art and techniques of fashion illustration. It focuses on two main areas: The first area introduces students to the fundamentals of Basic Fashion Illustration and Textiles. Students will master fashion croquis, illustration techniques using various coloring media, and understand fabric properties, weights, and uses. They will also delve into fabric ornamentation techniques, gaining skills that will support them throughout the program. The module emphasizes ethical practices in study and application. The second area is an advanced unit aimed at deepening students' understanding of the fashion design process and fostering their creative approach. Through portfolio creation, students will synthesize research and design into technical drawings and develop garment construction techniques for men's, women's, and children's wear.
